Lisa's been a Community YMCA gal since childhood when she was enrolled in our afterschool program. During her college years at West Chester University, Lisa worked at our summer camp. After earning a Special Education degree, she received her Masters from Widener University. Lisa's now a Special Education teacher for Drexel Hill Middle School. Born and raised in Lansdowne, she now lives in Drexel Hill.

"I love all the different class options, and they work well with my schedule. The instructors are amazing and always willing to help me, and everyone is just so friendly. The diversity is very unique, and everyone's so respectful."
